Beirut

Lebanon declared independence in 1943 and Beirut became the first capital of the country, Beirut is one of the oldest cities in the world which is still livable & populated. Beirut is the largest city with main Sea Port of Lebanon with approximately population 400000 in city limits and around 02 million habitants including suburbs, the city is located on a peninsula at the midpoint of Lebanon's Mediterranean coast at the foot of the Lebanon Mountains. Beirut has deep roots in history and the known history goes back to 5000 years, it was a proud part of many civilizations including Phoenician, Greeks, Romans, Arabs, and Ottomans. It's rich history still reflects in city's infrastructure. Several pre historical buildings were found under the buildings of new Beirut in recent era and were saved using the most ultra-techniques.

Beirut has been destroyed several times by earthquakes & natural disasters, faced great problems because of foreign rages and attacks by famous kings but after every such difficult time; Beirut rises up with more prosperity than before. In 1975 civil war broke out in Lebanon because of the presence of several foreign militant groups in Lebanon including PLO, Hizbollah, Syrian forces and Israeli Terrorist groups and for next 02 decades Beirut became one of the most dangerous city of region, with more than 60000 deaths in first 02 years of civil war. Since starting of new millennium things becoming better after the last Syrian troops left from Lebanon in 2005, Lebanon is reclaiming its tourist charm & position and getting tourist from all over the world, The city is considered a safe tourist spot again and chances of terrorism are minimal.
