Egypt has one of the oldest histories of any modern state having been continuously inhabited since the 10th millennium. Its monuments such as the Giza pyramid complex and its Great Sphinx were constructed by its ancient civilization, which was one of the most advanced of its time. Its ancient ruins, such as those of Memphis, Thebes, Karnak, and the Valley of the Kings outside the "Luxor", are significant focus of archaeological study and popular interest. Egypt's rich cultural legacy, as well as the attraction of its Red Sea Riviera, has made tourism a vital part of the economy, Tourism also employing about 12% of the country's workforce. The economy of Egypt is one of the most diversified in the Middle East, with sectors such as tourism, agriculture, industry and services at almost equal production levels. Cairo also known as "Misr" by Egyptians as well as al-Qahirah or Umm al-Dunya ("the mother of the world"). Cairo the City of the Thousand Minarets is a splendid place to explore Egyptian history and culture. Cairo city has an estimated population of 10 million in 2018, while suburbs population of approximately 22 million, which makes it the largest city in Africa and the Middle East, and the 15th largest metropolitan area on earth. Cairo was officially founded in AD 969, but its history is much longer than a more 1,000 years. In A. D. 969 Jawhar, the leader of an Islamic sect called the Fatimid's, founded a new city near al-Fustat, initially naming it al-Mansuriyah (its name was later changed to al-Qahirah, or Cairo). When the Fatimids became the rulers of Egypt, founding a dynasty that lasted for two centuries, Cairo became their capital. Cairo's cultural legacy is evident in its rich and varied museum collections. The Egyptian Museum at Maydan Tahrir houses the city's premier collection of over 100,000 artifacts from nearly every period of Egyptian history. Most of its greatest buildings were constructed during this period. Cairo has the oldest and largest film and music industries in the whole Arab world, as well as the world's second-oldest film institution headquarters in Cairo; the Arab League has had its headquarters in Cairo too since most the period of its existence. The climate of Cairo is deserted, with hot summers and mild winters, rain is rare, and dust storms can occur even in the spring. Cairo is connected by highway with all other major cities in Egypt. The Desert Road links Cairo - Alexandria; there are main roads connecting Cairo with Ismailiyah and Luxor. In addition, there is the Red Sea Highway completed in the early 1990. Pyramids (Giza) situated almost 20 km from Cairo Down Town.
